Democrats Vote Civil Rights Compromise

Drive by North Liberals is Shouted Down

Vote Preceded by Unity Pleas by Truman, McCormack

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democratic National Convention voted a compromise civil rights plank into the party platform early today, clearing the way for a first ballot nomination of Adlai E. Stevenson tonight.

The Democratic delegates waged their quadrennial family fight over civil rights Wednesday night and early today. At 2:25 a. m. EDT, after a long and noisy wrangle, the convention approved its Platform Committee's compromise plank, to which the South objected but knew it had to take.

A drive by Northern liberals to write a tougher plank, pledging the party to carry out Supreme Court decisions against school segregation, was shouted down by a voice vote.

This vote was preceded by pleas for party unity by former President Truman and House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack. Mr. Truman had thrown the convention preliminaries into an uproar last week end by endorsing Harriman, and advocating a stiff civil rights plank.

But the ex-president failed to go along with his candidate Wednesday night. Instead, Mr. Truman appealed to the party to pull together so it can lick the Republicans next November. He said the Platform Committee's civil rights plank was the "best ever presented" to a Democratic convention and should be adopted.

Thereupon, Speaker Sam Rayburn, chairman of the convention, gavelled through the platform and ignored calls for a roll call, although the New York delegation was waving its standard in an apparent effort to win recognition. Mr. Sam never saw it . . . officially.

Before he aligned himself with the "moderates" on the convention floor Wednesday night, Mr. Truman took a last swat at Stevenson. He expressed fear that Stevenson would deliver the party into the hands of a "reactionary minority" but he backedtracked on his earlier statement that Stevenson could not win the election.

In an oblique reply, Stevenson said Democrats should save "abuse" for Republicans and that

Death Takes Mrs. Noble Steinsultz, 46; Rites Saturday

Mrs. Mary Magdalene Steinsultz, 46, wife of Noble Steinsultz of 1317 Longley street, died today at 12:45 p. m. at her home. She had been in poor health for a year.

She was the former Mary Heflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heflin of West Frankfort, and was married to Noble Steinsultz in 1934.

Besides her parents and husband she leaves four children: Mrs. Ruby Milligan of Harrisburg, Marjorie, Leroy and Freda, all at home; one grandchild; three brothers, Homer Heflin of Harrisburg, Claud of Galatia, Isaac of West Frankfort; and five sisters: Ruth Thomas, West Frankfort, Gertrude Field, Galatia, Lena Hazel, West Frankfort, Josephine Allen, West Frankfort, and Wanda Marvel of Thompsonville.

She was a Baptist by faith. The body lies in state at the Turner funeral home where services will be Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. Joe Morman will officiate and burial will be in Lindale Memorial Gardens.

Republican Bigwigs Arrive In San Francisco for Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republican bigwigs today began pouring into this convention-conscious city where top GOP strategists huddled over any remaining problems of their "unity" convention next week.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the party's 1944 and 1948 standard bearer, was one of the bigger names heading here by air for the party's nominating conclave. Close on his heels were Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., and deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

Dewey was quoted as saying after a meeting with President Eisenhower that he thought Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be re-nominated.

Rogers A Dewey Man
Also, observers noted significantly that flying out with Adams and Brownell was Rogers, one of Nixon's closest personal friends and associates and a longtime Dewey man.

While Harold E. Stassen's backers moved ahead with plans to open a headquarters here Friday for his "dump Nixon" movement, the party regulars continued to ooze public optimism that the 43-year-old Californian would be retained on the ticket without any major convention opposition.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said Wednesday he sees no signs that Stassen's efforts "to date have had any impression on the delegates."

Says Nixon Preferred
Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) told a news conference that he feels Mr. Eisenhower "has made it as clear as possible" that he prefers Nixon as a running mate.

Saltonstall predicted that Massachusetts "will be solidly behind Nixon, and why shouldn't it when our own governor (Christian

Looters Virtually Carry Away Farm Home Near Marion

MARION, Ill. (AP) — A missing dinner bell is the top clue in the search for looters who have virtually carried away a farm home southwest of here.

Williamson County Sheriff Carl Miller said the old-fashioned bell is among the items missing from the home of Paul Tippy, who works in Gary, Ind. Tippy has been away from home since July 4. Since then, appliances, farm implements, the bell and even some concrete blocks from the foundation of his home have been carried away.

Two Who Fled Manhunt Here Held in Texas

Expected to Be Returned to Illinois for Trial

The two men who escaped a net thrown up during a manhunt in the Galatia-Raleigh-Harco township areas the night of July 2, have been seized at Laredo, Texas, the United Press reported today.

They are William Earl Bolton, 29, Sesser, and Bruno Skirmont, 37, Chicago, arrested at Laredo last week-end. They are expected to be returned to Illinois for trial in a few days.

The two, indicted on six armed robbery charges each on charges of robbing six Chicago taverns, jumped their $50,000 bonds and after some time they were named in federal warrants charging them with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

At Laredo, the United Press story declared, they were ordered held in $25,000 bond each at a remand hearing before U. S. Commissioner Frank Y. Hill. Lacking bond they were both placed in the Webb county jail for Illinois authorities.

A manhunt developed in a short time after they were driven into the barn lot at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Garner on Route 34 between Galatia and Raleigh around 11 a. m. July 23. They left their new car after State Police Sergeant Herb Bramlet followed them in. State police and officers from Saline and Franklin counties, augmented by others, joined in a search of the area that lasted thru Monday and Monday night.

The next morning the car of Otis Stone, who resides three or four miles from where the men escaped, was missing and the theory was that the men made their break in the machine. It later was found abandoned near Cairo and on the same day a motor boat was stolen from Cairo, which led some officers to believe the two escaped by water.

They were first spotted in a West Frankfort bank but got away before officers could get them. They headed this way on Route 34 and Bramlet saw them.

Caucus by Illinois Delegation Shows 52 1-2 Votes for Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois delegates emerged from their last pre-convention caucus today and said their final count before going to the Democratic National Convention floor showed Adlai Stevenson to have 52 1/2 votes for the presidential nomination.

This represented a gain of only 2 1/2 from the last previous count for Stevenson in the state where he was governor. Delegation leaders, including Jacob Arvey, Democratic national committeeman, and Mayor Richard Daley had expressed a hope for a unanimous vote up to the time of the roll call but it appeared likely this could not be obtained.

Delegation sources, emerging from the Saddle and Siroin Club close to the amphitheatre, said the final breakdown as the caucus broke up showed for the 64-vote delegation:

Stevenson 52 1/2; Gov. Averell Harriman 8 1/2; Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio 1; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 1; and Sen. Paul Douglas 1.

For a time, reporters gathered outside believed they might listen in on the proceedings in the caucus. Someone had left a public address system turned on, but the oversight was corrected quickly.

Rabies Vaccination Clinic Saturday

To Pump Gas from Galatia Field Into Big Inch Pipeline

Gas is to be pumped from the oil field west of Galatia into the Big Inch pipeline, and equipment is now being installed to do the job.

A booster station is being constructed by the Deep Fork Natural Gas Co. of Tulsa, Okla. A compressor plant will be installed and about five miles of pipeline will be installed. There will be six compressors.

The booster station will gather flare gas, compress it and pump it into the pipeline. Gas pressure must be increased more than 800 pounds for it to enter Big Inch, which runs through Illinois near the oil field area.

Guard to Patrol Holiday Traffic

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois National Guardsmen will help state police patrol Illinois highways during the Labor Day holiday weekend, Gov. William G. Stratton announced Wednesday.

Stratton said he had again asked the guard for assistance in keeping down the auto accident toll for the holiday period. Guardsmen were used for highway patrol work during the last three-day weekend, the New Year's Day period.

State Adj. Gen. Leo M. Boyle said he has ordered 20 officers and 200 enlisted men to duty with the state police for patrol work for the Labor Day period.

Stratton said "through the combined efforts of the National Guard, the highway police and local authorities, Illinois had the lowest accident record in the nation during the last three-day holiday weekend."

Stevenson Seeks Running-Mate From Field of Six Hopefuls

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson sought a running-mate today from a field of at least six hopefuls. A spokesman for the prospective Democratic presidential nominee said the race for second spot on the ticket was "still wide open."

Known entries were Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota; Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee; Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts; Gov. Robert B. Meyer of New Jersey; and Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Jr. of New York.

There could be others. Only Stevenson knew for sure, and he was closeted in his hotel suite today, studying the possibilities of all the contenders, and keeping his own counsel.

Stevenson turned his attention to the choice of a vice presidential nominee after it became obvious that he would be nominated for president on the first ballot tonight. His selection of a running-mate almost certainly will be quickly ratified by the convention Friday afternoon.

Made No Commitments

Aides stressed that the former Illinois governor has made "absolutely no commitments" involving the vice presidency. Having clinched the nomination without any deals, they said, he has a free hand to pick the running mate he considers best for the party and the country.

"It is still wide open and I don't believe it will be decided until after the presidential nomination," said Stevenson's press secretary, Roger Tubby.

The four senators, one governor and one mayor listed as leading contenders were said to be the survivors in an elimination contest which began a week ago when Stevenson asked aides to get background material on more than a dozen vice presidential possibilities.

There was originally some sentiment in the Stevenson camp for letting the convention delegates choose a vice presidential candidate without an expression of preference by the nominee.

But that plan has been abandoned, according to informed sources, on grounds that it might produce a "bitter fight" and leave scars that would be felt in the November elections.

Betsy Retreats, But New Storm Begins Forming

MIAMI (AP) — A low-pressure area that may be forming a new tropical whirler in the West Indies kicked up 40 mile an hour winds today while Hurricane Betsy beat a retreat into the Atlantic.

The San Juan, P.R., Weather Bureau Wednesday night said the squally area 600 miles to the northeast was moving generally toward the U.S. mainland at about 15 miles per hour. There was no sign of a hurricane formation, however.

The disturbance formed along the upper part of an easterly wave that cropped up and then quickly weakened near the island of Guadeloupe.

Meanwhile a huge Air Force Globemaster carrying emergency supplies to San Salvador, which was hit by Hurricane Betsy, crashed today on an approach to the runway there. One man was killed but 12 others were pulled from the blazing wreckage of the plane.

The government kept all its scouting planes busy tracking Hurricane Betsy, which ended hours of uncertain wobbling during the night and began to move steadily seaward at a 13-mile-per-hour clip.

A report from San Juan said the tempest during the weekend killed 16 persons in Guadeloupe, 12 in Puerto Rico and 2 on St. Croix, and heavily damaged 40,000 homes, demolishing half of them.

Says Former Governor is Top Vote-Getter

Qualified to Lead
Nation Out of 'Crisis
Of Complacency'

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts asked the Democratic National Convention today to nominate Adlai E. Stevenson for the presidency so Stevenson can lead the nation "out of this crisis of complacency."

Kennedy, placing Stevenson's name in nomination, said the former Illinois governor and 1952 Democratic standard bearer, is "uniquely qualified" and is the party's "top vote-getter."

The Massachusetts senator, considered a possible vice presidential nominee, thus took a back-handed swing at former President Truman for questioning Stevenson's ability to win in November. He said Stevenson had shown in winning the 1948 Illinois governorship and in presidential primaries this year that he is "the best vote-getter in the Democratic Party."

Putting forth the candidate who already had the nomination sewed up, Kennedy told the delegates they were gathered "not to nominate a Democratic candidate but the next president."

Must Guide Free World

The nominee, he said, must be more than a "good candidate," more than a good politician, more than a good liberal or a good conservative. He said the party must think beyond the next election to the four years ahead because the next president must guide the "destinies of the nation and of the free world."

Kennedy said that each "Republican year of indecision" had brought new Communist advances in the trouble spots of the world. Only the president can deal with these problems, he said, and the Democratic nominee must be a man of "courage, vigor and vision."

He said there are problems which cry for solution and leadership and that the Democrats have the man in Stevenson "to lead us out of this crisis of complacency."

Still Some Irritation

Stevenson, apparently sure nothing can stop him now, had irritated a number of southern delegates earlier by saying he would have been happier if the compromise civil rights plank adopted in today's small hours had contained an out-and-out endorsement of the Supreme Court's school integration order.

Virginia voted to give its first ballot votes to former Gov. John S. Battle as a favorite son candidate. Mississippi announced it would vote for Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Georgia said it would vote for its own Rep. James C. Davis. But Stevenson had enough firm votes to give him an easy first ballot victory tonight.

This afternoon's convention session, the sixth, was given over to the nominating oratory and the noisy and highly organized "spontaneous" demonstrations with which candidates' supporters try to whip up enthusiasm for their men every four years.

Harriman, running a poor second in the pre-balloting delegate count, refused to concede Stevenson had bagged the nomination. He insisted on being put in nomination.

In the meantime, while some of the Southerners insisted on casting first ballot votes for favorite sons and others, key Ohio threw off his favorite son commitment and announced for Stevenson.

So the big show was all but over, with the main interest veering toward Friday's vice presidential balloting.

Frank Clement's Keynote

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
KEYNOTE speeches are supposed of course to set down a party's constructive articles of faith as well as afford it opportunity to whiplash the opposition.
It is understandable, however,
that keynoters often find the business of indicting their rivals the more exciting part of their assignment.

So it was this time with the Democrats' chosen bellringer,
Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.
Clement, a young, handsome,
evangelistic governor who says
he may one day forsake politics for religion (he is a lay preacher-er), tore into the Republicans with the fury of a dedicated man.

Upon the GOP and its leaders
—not excluding President Eisenhower—he laid the burden of a long list of counts in his indictment.

In the end, the Republicans stood accused of serving only the privileged few at home and aiding the spread of hostile communism abroad.

RELISHING his role, Clement heaped ridicule and scorn on the party in power.

The President he saw as a "general, glamorous and affable general who joined the Republican party
after he reached the age of retirement from the regular army."
The suggestion seemed to be that Mr. Eisenhower viewed politics as a sort of retirement.

Clement also called the President the "most available front" in 1952 for "putting back into power a discredited, defunct party."

He lashed at Vice President Nixon as the GOP's "vice hatchet man," and forecast that if nominated again he would go about
"slinging slander and spreading half-truths while the top man peers down the green fairways of indifference."

He pronounced Nixon's middle name, "Milhouse," almost as if it were an epithet.

Secretary of State Dulles he labeled a "wandering minstrel"
who "fiddles, fritters, frets and flits" while the Russians score gains in the Middle East and elsewhere.

It wasn't all in this vein. Clement dug into the hard materials of the farm and business situation at home and the status of our free friends abroad to buttress his indictment. And with a fervor nearly matching his friend Billy Graham, he sang loudly the praises of the Democratic party.

To appraise the merit of his solid criticisms would take a book.
Clearly Clement did not intend his document to be thus weighed.
He was out to amuse and inspire and quicken the pulse of his fellow Democrats at Chicago.

Few Americans of whatever political leaning would have much doubt that he probably succeeded.
Soon they will hear what kind of answer the Republicans can give.

Crying over spilt milk only makes it salty for the cat.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Stevenson To Lead At Start
Of Ballot; Truman Will Throw
To Symington; Johnson Wants
To Pick Victory; Johnson Wants To Pick Victory.

CHICAGO. — This is the day when delegation after delegation gets its brief moment before the TV cameras to announce its vote for the man who may become President. It's also a day when you can hear any rumor you want to hear for any candidate and when you can start a rumor of your own and within an hour get it repeated back to you as the gospel truth.

In this writer's opinion, however, here's how the candidates line up at the start of the balloting.

1. Stevenson is definitely in the lead. He and Kefauver have a friendly, firm alliance. The Tennessee senator has been working night and day to swing his own ex-delegates to Stevenson. There is no commitment for him on the
No. 2 spot.

2. Harriman has put up a heroic fight but it's an uphill fight.
Harry Truman, his best backer,
will throw to dark horse Sen. Stuart Symington, when the chips are down. Truman used to refer to Symington as Little Lord Fauntlerroy when Stu was firing Harry's friends out of the RFC in the days of hams and milk coats, but now they're palsy-walsy.

3. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the long, tough-trading Texan, is conducting an astute holding operation. He wants to pick the vice-president, also put his assistant Jim Rowe in as national chairman. In return he will throw his delegates to Stevenson. Lyndon and Speaker Sam Rayburn don't want Kefauver on the ticket under any conditions; they'll take any other vice-president. If Stevenson doesn't buy this Johnson package, he'll continue his holding operation and try to throw to Symington.

That's the way the players line up before the opening whistle in a game where there are no ground rules, where anything goes and where the stakes are the presidency of the United States.

Adlai Stevenson got some blunt answers during a private huddle with Sam Rizzo, chief of the Wisconsin delegation.

"Do you want to carry Wisconsin in November?" asked Rizzo.
"Yes, of course," said the Democratic hopeful.

"Okay. Put Senator Kefauver
on the ticket, then you stay out of Wisconsin and the Democrats can carry the state," Rizzo told Stevenson to his face.

"I don't operate with a gun at my head," replied the ex-governor of Illinois.

Chicago capers:
Big, bald Jim Farley, the political mastermind of the Roosevelt era, huddled privately with Adlai Stevenson's lieutenant, Hy Raskin, after ex-President Truman came out for Governor Harriman. "It won't change ten votes," Farley told Raskin. . .
A pretty girl handing out Stevenson pins, didn't recognize Governor Harriman walking by. She sweetly offered him a Stevenson badge.

"No thanks," smiled the governor. "I am Ave Harriman."
. . . Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has been withholding convention tickets from Harriman supporters. In order to get tickets, Harriman headquarters advised several supporters to hide their Harriman buttons, go to Stevenson headquarters for tickets and claim they were Stevenson supporters. It worked.

A Kentucky delegate, disgruntled over Happy Chandler's antics, grumbled: "You have to complete the sentence if you want to call Chandler Kentucky's favorite son." . . . Wyoming's Senator Joe O'Mahoney, after sitting through day-and-night sessions of the Democratic platform committee, observed wearily: "The mind cannot absorb what the behind cannot endure."

Near fist fight:
It was hushed up, but a northern Negro and southern white had to be held back from slugging
each other during a heated, closed-door meeting of the Young Democrats.

The outburst came in the middle of a civil rights speech by Cecil Brown, Wisconsin Negro,
who accused southern Democrats of lacking morals. He looked pointedly at a young Louisiana Democrat, Dick Simoneau, as he hurled the charge.

Simoneau angrily leaped to his feet with fists doubled and headed for Brown. Before the two could start fighting, however,
"Chuck" Lipson of Wisconsin, jumped between them. Others helped hold them back until they cooled down.

In the end, the Young Democrats accepted Brown's tough civil rights resolution, pledging "unstinting efforts" to elect senators and congressmen who will vote to repeal the seniority rule which gives southern Democrats control of most congressional committees.

Backstage at Chicago — Ex-
Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman tried to persuade Adlai Stevenson at a long, private lunch to accept Senator Kefauver for vice president. Stevenson finally agreed that his choice had narrowed down to two senators — Kefauver of Tennessee and Humphrey of Minnesota. . . . Chapman later passed the word to Kefauver that he could count on the vice presidency. Chapman promised to start a Kefauver boom with the king-size California delegation.
Stevenson's 1952 running mate,
Alabama Senator John Sparkman, tried to convince Stevenson that he needed a southern vice president to appease the Dixie bloc
... Massachusetts' stern, stanch
Congressman John McCormack,
a Democratic power, worked against Stevenson. A devout Catholic, McCormack is privately troubled over Stevenson's divorce.
Fears he might re-marry in the White House, which would be repugnant to Catholics. However, McCormack is not campaigning for Harriman; he prefers Missouri Senator Stu Symington. . .
Governor Harriman not only phoned delegates, but friends of delegates back home. He asked them to put the pressure on the delegates in Chicago.

Dewey Confident Nixon Will Be Renominated

WASHINGTON. — Former
New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said following a meeting with President Eisenhower Wednesday that he is "quite confident" Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be renominated.

Dewey emphasized his continuing support for Nixon at the end of his 30-minute conference with the President. He said he and Mr. Eisenhower talked politics and about the Republican National Convention in San Francisco
next week.

But he would not say whether Nixon's future was discussed.

Asked for his own views on Nixon's renomination Dewey said:
"I have assumed all along that he will be nominated. I have personally felt he has been the most useful vice president in history.
He has lent more stature to that office, grown more and done more than anybody else."

"He certainly is entitled to re-nomination, and I am quite confident he will be renominated."

Scholarship Aid Program Planned by State Commission

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — State
Rep. Charles W. Calbaugh reported today the State Higher Education Commission has approved a scholarship aid program to help qualified students attend private colleges and universities.

The commission, which met in Chicago Tuesday, drafted a bill covering the program to be presented along with recommendations to the Legislature next year, Calbaugh said.

The Champaign Republican, a member of the commission, said the group voted to recommend that the Legislature start the program with 1,000 first year scholarships with a maximum value of $600
each, or a total of $600,000.

The proposal would pay qualifying students $600 or the amount of the tuition and fees required by the school which they attend, whichever is smaller.

When students in all four years of college are participating in the program, Calbaugh said, it would cost $2,400,000 annually.

The program would be designed to relieve overcrowding in public institutions without building new facilities, and at the same time fill-

Chapman to Become Acting Governor for Nearly Three Weeks

SPRINGFIELD. — Lt. Gov.
William W. Chapman will become acting chief executive of Illinois
for almost three weeks Saturday, the longest period he has been the ranking government official in the state since he was elected lieutenant governor.

Gov. William G. Stratton, Mrs.
Stratton, and their daughters, Sandra and Diana, leave for the Republican National Convention at San Francisco Saturday. The Strattons plan a West Coast vacation after the convention, and will ity" to profit from college work.

The students also would have to show financial inability to attend
the college of their choice.

Feminine Voters

Continue to Gain

WASHINGTON. — Women
have the power again this fall to swing the election—strictly in terms of their numerical advantage over the men.

United States Census Bureau estimates show that of 105,000,000 potential voters this year, 53,700-000 are women.

Those estimates show that the fair sex is more than keeping its edge as far as the ballot box is concerned. In 1952, there were 58,377,000 potential voters—50,000-

000 women and 48,000,000 men.

Two facts must be kept in mind.
Not all potential voters go to the polls (only 63 percent did so in 1952), and there is no official breakdown of voting by sex after the ballots are cast.

In the only such estimate available, the American Heritage Foundation claimed women cast 49.5 percent of the total vote in 1952.
Its 1953 survey showed 50 percent more women voted in 1952 than in 1948, compared with only a 16 percent gain for the men.

The foundation also stated that women cast 51.9 percent of the Eisenhower vote, or 17,600,000 votes and 46.5 per cent of the Stevenson vote, or 12,700,000.

Carrier Mills High School to Open Tuesday Morning, Sept. 4

Class Schedules Will Be Given On Opening Day

The Carrier Mills Community high school will open Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 8:45 a. m. Principal Warren G. Jennings announced today. Advance registration was held last May and students will be handed their class schedules on the opening day of school. A general assembly will be held in the gymnasium on the east bleachers at 8:45 a. m., where introductions of teachers and announcements will be made to the student body. Students will be dismissed in time to be home for lunch the first day of school.

The first day of school the Lakeview bus will leave Lakeview at 8 a. m. and the Stonefort bus will leave Stonefort at 8:30 a. m. There will be no change made in the route of the Stonefort-Lakeview bus from last year's route. The bus traveling south and west will leave Carrier Mills at 7:45 a. m., traveling south on Tuller road and then west on Newcastle road approximately 11-2 miles and then south on the Earl Overstreet road to the Saxton Mine Road and then west to U.S. Route No. 45 and then will continue the same route as followed last year. There will be no other changes in bus routes.

Faculty, Subjects

Faculty members and subjects for the coming year are as follows: Robert A. Aaron, general science, biology, and chemistry; Jean Crowder, social studies; Geraldine James, home economics; Wayne E. Minton, music; Mabel Porter, English, and library; Bill J. Priest, industrial arts and math; June Priest, English and girls' P. E.; Mary Ann Richardson, business; Athel C. Tanner, mathematics and business; and A. L. Willis, head coach, boys' P. E., and driver training. Mrs. Alene Keel is the school secretary and John Gibson is head custodian.

The revision of textbooks initiated three years ago has been continued this year with the adoption of texts in general business, general math, Sophomore and Junior literature, World history, general science and driver training. The adoption of these books gives students up-to-date texts in nearly every course offered. The book rental system is being continued this year with the high school furnishing all texts for a rental fee of $5.00 per year for four classes. This will represent a considerable savings for students who otherwise would have had to purchase their books outright and would have had to bear the loss of change each year.

Accident Policy

The high school is also offering a student accident policy this year which will pay all medical expenses up to $2500.00 including doctor's bill, laboratory fees, surgeon's bills, dentist's bills x-ray fees, hospital room, operating room and registered nurse's bills, if the student has an accident while going to or from school while within a school building or on the school grounds, while on a school sponsored social outing, while engaged in practicing for or participating in athletic contests other than football, or while on a school sponsored trip. There is no limitation on the amount to be spent for any one item.

Freshman students and transfer students from other schools are to be reminded that they must have both a physical examination by a physician and a dental examination by a dentist on file in the high school office on or before the first day of school, Sept. 4. Forms may be picked up in the high school office when desired. Parents are urged to see that these examinations are completed as early in August as possible.

New equipment has been added to the industrial Arts, Science, English, Home Economics, Business and Music departments. The entire new addition has been redecorated and all classrooms and hallways have been given a complete cleaning and resealing. The gymnasium has been cleaned and the bleachers and walking area around the playing floor have been resealed.

Mr. Jennings stated that an enrollment of 230 students is expected for the coming school year which represents an increase over the 210 students enrolled at the end of school last year.

Former Nazi War Criminal Dies

ENZWEIHINGEN, Germany, (AP)—Baron Konstantin von Neurath, former foreign minister of Germany and a protector of Bohemia, died here Tuesday. He was 83. The first of the major war criminals held at Spandau Prison to be released, Von Neurath was set free in November, 1954, after serving 8 years of a 15-year sentence.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

What goes on in your mind when you go to church? Some people allow their minds to wander through the events of the past few days and dwell on the interesting things that have happened. Others think about the unpleasant incidents which have occurred. They become angry and just fidget through the service.

Many folk humbly consider their shortcomings and their sins. They think not only about the things they have done wrong, but also of the things that they might have done. They are truly sorry that they missed the opportunity to serve God and their fellowmen. They pray sincerely for guidance in the future and forgiveness for their sins of omission.

The self-satisfied individual frequently thinks of the errors of other people. He applies the teachings of the Bible and the thoughts of the sermon to his friends and neighbors. When he prays, he asks God to forgive other people and to guide them in their daily living.

Generalists do not think of specific details. They apply religion to international affairs, to broad ideas and to over-all theories which do not affect their own actions. It is easier to pray for the peace of the world than for the peace of one's own soul. Praying for a nation is casual, but praying for God to change oneself is more difficult.

Miss Joyce Jeanette Rushing, Louis A. Bobka Exchange Vows At Church In Carbondale

Miss Joyce Jeanette Rushing, daughter of J. Lee Rushing and the late Mrs. Helen Rushing of Route 1, Carbondale, and Louis A. Bobka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bobka, 1218 South Webster, were married July 7 in St. Francis Xavier church in Carbondale.

The Rev. Robert Hutsch officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 150 guests. Tapers lighted the altar which was adorned with baskets of white gladioli. There were palms on the steps leading to the altar and the family pews were marked by greenery tied with pink and blue ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her ballerina-length gown was of white silk shantung with very full skirt and bodice designed on princess lines, featuring round neckline re-embroidered with Alencon lace appliques, and back closing from neckline to waist held with tiny covered buttons. Her waist length veil of tulle illusion fell from a white crown embroidered with tiny seed pearls. White mitts of silk shantung complemented the short sleeves of the gown. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white fringed carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Ann Bobka, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore white lace over blue taffeta, designed on princess lines with full ballerina length skirt and fitted bodice styled with short sleeves and bateau neckline. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of pink and bluefringed carnations.

Miss Joan Coleman, bridesmaid, was identically costumed, except that she wore white lace over pink taffeta. Both wore headbands matching their gowns, and white accessories.

George Herrmann, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Charles Thate and Philip Rushing, cousin of the bride.

For the wedding, Mrs. Bobka, the bridegroom's mother, wore a coat dress of powder blue and white faille with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

The wedding reception was given in the Rushing home. Hostesses were Mrs. Elbert Bush and Mrs. Hubert Rushing, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Marie Coleman. Miss Pat Coleman served punch and Mrs. William Bleyer served the cake. Mrs. Charles Thate was in charge of the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Lake Taneycomo in the Missouri Ozarks, Mr. and Mrs. Bobka will be at home after August 30 at Veterans Housing, W. Chautauqua, Carbondale.

The bride is a graduate of Carbondale Community high school and Southern Illinois University where she was a member of Tri Sigma sorority. She has been on the Lincoln junior high school staff for the past three years and plans to resume teaching duties this fall in Carbondale.

Mr. Bobka is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school and attended Southern for three years. He has served in the U. S. Navy for four years, and will return to Southern this fall.

Faithful Followers Class Elects New Officers

The Faithful Followers class of the Big Ridge Baptist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Emila J. Fox for the monthly business session with nine members and one new member present.

The meeting was opened by singing the class song followed with prayer by Mrs. Shirley Rister. Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report given.

Officers for the coming year are as follows: president, Mrs. Shirley Wintzer; vice president, Mrs. Emila J. Fox; secretary-reporter, Mrs. Fayllis Hicks; flower committee, Mrs. Phyllis Hicks, Wilma Rister and Mrs. Eva Mugge; song leader, Mrs. Genevieve Alvey.

Mrs. Wilma Rister gave the devotion and closing prayer. Mrs. Emila J. o was in charge of the recreation period.

The hostess served refreshments of punch, cookies and favors to the following: Mrs. Genevieve Alvey, Barbara Miller, Mrs. Theda Miller, Mrs. Eva Mugge, Mrs. Wilma Rister, Mrs. Shirley Wintzer, Mrs. Margaret Wise, Mrs. Shirley Rister, and a new member, Mrs. Phyllis Hicks.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Rister.

Miss Martha Armistead And Robert Simcox To Be Married Saturday

The wedding of Miss Martha Armistead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Armistead, and Robert Simcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simcox, Kansas City, will take place Saturday at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist church in Harrisburg.

The pastor, the Rev. Joe Morman, will perform the ceremony, at which the couple will be attended as bridesmaids by Miss Maridell Armistead, sister of the bride, and Miss Mollie Jean Brinkley and by Donald Rice, Park college classmate of the bridegroom from Crystal City, Mo., and Robert McFall, Kansas City University student, and lifelong friend of the bridegroom.

Friends and relatives of this area are cordially invited to attend the wedding ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith of Near Ozark to Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith

On Sunday afternoon, Aug. 26, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley M. Smith of Ozark will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary with an Open House from three to five o'clock at their home at Fruitland, one-half mile east of Ozark.

All of the Smiths' nine living children and their families, with the exception of Elizabeth, who is on assignment with the State Department in the Philippine Islands, are expected home for the occasion.

In addition to Elizabeth, the immediate family is composed of Philip of Laughintown, Pa., Homer of Ozark, Malcolm of Washington, D. C., Alfred of Los Angeles, Calif., David of Ypsilanti, Mich., Mrs. John Alexander (Mary) of Palo Alto, Calif., Stephen of Dallas, Tex., and Sam of Huntington, Ind. Another son, Daniel, was killed in action while serving with the U. S. Air Corps in New Guinea in 1944.

The entire Smith family never has been reunited since November, 1944, when all of the children were home for Thanksgiving prior to leaving for service in various defense and wartime capacities. Five of the sons served in Army and Navy aviation during the war.

Pauline Moore Circle Meets With Mrs. George Howerton

Mrs. George Howerton was hostess Tuesday evening to the members of the Pauline Moore circle of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Calvin Sutton, in the absence of Mrs. Henry Hancock, was in charge of the program entitled "Ye Christian Heralds: Go Proclaim," telling of the work of the five Southern Baptist Theological Seminaries.

Those taking part in the program were Mrs. Ron Ziegler, Mrs. George Aud, Mrs. George Howerton, and Mrs. Billy Robertson, a visitor.

Also visiting was Mrs. Jack Stanley.

At the close of the program delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

O. G. Thomas of Big Ridge, who suffered a heart attack two weeks ago, remains in bed but is slowly improving. He is able to be up one hour each day.

Mrs. Paul Kimbro has returned to her home. Dor. Heights is undergoing surgery recently at the Lightner hospital and is able to receive visitors. Her child, Paula Sue and Stevie, who spent the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Patterson, are now at home with their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Price and son, Eddie, have returned from Kansas City, Mo., where they spent a few days visiting in the home of a nephew, Vernon B. Hopper and family.

Mrs. Louise Butler is reported seriously ill at her home, 1122 South Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bilibrey and Mrs. Zella Bennett of Crossville, Mrs. Susie Graves of Carmi and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Groves Jr. of Harrisburg enjoyed a 6 o'clock birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor of Garden Heights, Aug. 10. It was the birthday of Mrs. Taylor, also her niece Mrs. Susie Graves.

Highlights of Democratic Platform

gravated the problem by stacking the National Labor Relations Board with biased pro-management personnel.

Democrats unequivocally urge repeal of Taft-Hartley. They also oppose state right-to-work laws enacted under its terms. "A new legislative approach toward the entire labor-management problem will be adopted, based on past experience and the principles of the Wagner National Labor Relations Act and the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction law."

The federal minimum wage should be raised from $1 an hour to at least $1.25. Additional workers should be covered. Legislation is needed to assure equal pay for women. Jobs must be provided for depressed areas.

Atomic Energy

The government must build plants for production of atomic power; under the Republican administration, this is left to private industry, and other countries are forging ahead. The Atomic Energy Commission must be taken out of politics.

Democrats will sponsor a comprehensive survey of radiation hazards, from bomb tests and other atomic work, to see if further protection is needed. Atomic production will be stepped up to assure supplies for both peaceful and military uses.

Financial Policy

An expanding economy can produce enough taxes to balance the budget and at the same time support a tax cut. Democrats favor correcting inequities in GOP tax law. They propose to increase personal tax exemptions from $600 to at least $800. Republican increases in interest rates will be reversed.

Free Enterprise

"We recognize monopolies and monopolistic practices as the real barriers between the people and their economic and political freedom." Republicans have fostered monopoly, stifling small business. Democrats pledge new aids for small business, including tax relief.

Foreign Trade

Democrats always have worked for expanding world trade. They will continue vigorous support for Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade agreements act. However, Republicans have failed to use the act's escape clauses as needed, with resulting "serious economic injury" to hundreds of thousands of American workers. Democrats will correct this.

Foreign Policy

Eisenhower administration policies of "bluff and bluster" have "unnecessarily and dangerously subjected the American people to the risk of atomic war." President Eisenhower "has failed to seek peace with determination." Administration leaders have been "fraternizing with the Communists and weakening the positive democratic policy of halting Communist expansion."

Suez Canal crisis results from "inept and vacillating" GOP policy. Democrats support internationalization of the canal. They promise "defensive weapons" for Israel and economic aid to Arab states and Israel. They oppose admission of Red China to United Nations, and support the "great goal of enforced disarmament" and strengthening of U. N.

Democrats condemn the GOP for "heartless record" of broken 1952 campaign promises to liberate captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

National Defense

"Political considerations of budget balancing and tax reductions now come before the wants of our national security and the needs of our allies." Republicans "have stifled our Air Force, starved our Army and weakened our capacity to deal with military threats of any sort save by retreat or by . . . massive retaliation and global atomic war." Democrats stand for strong defense forces "so clearly superior in modern weapons to those of any possible enemy that our armed strength will make an attack upon the free world unthinkable."

Agriculture

The Eisenhower administration "has failed utterly to develop any programs to meet the desperate needs of farmers . . . and has sabotaged" programs inherited from Democrats. Democrats denounce President's veto of Democratic farm bill that would have junked flexible price supports and restored basic crop props at 90 per cent of parity.

Democrats pledge full parity of income for farmers through 90 per cent support loans, plus subsidy payments, direct purchases and similar measures. Democrats will support "continued improvements" in the soil bank program and "practical measures" to support prices of feed grains, other nonbasic crops, meats, poultry and dairy products.

They favor a stamp plan for distribution of food to the needy, expansion of school lunch and milk program, strategic stockpiles of farm commodities and an international food bank. They pledge easier credit at lower interest rates to farmers and a return of the administration of farm programs to farmer-elected committeemen.

Natural Resources

Pledges "unstinting support to a full and integrated program of development, protection, management and conservation of all of our natural resources for all of the people."

The Eisenhower administration "has despoiled future generations of their heritage by utter failure to safeguard natural resources." Administration pillaging symbolized by "infamous Dixon-Yates contract, Al Sarena timber 'mining' scheme and the low level Hells Canyon dams."

Pledges "resumption of rapid and orderly" multiple-purpose river basin development throughout the nation. Democrats will "preserve and strengthen the public power competitive yardstick" in power developments such as Tennessee Valley Authority, Rural Electrification Administration and Bonneville.

In the County Court of Saline County, Illinois.

Herman McFarlin, Administrator of the Estate of Jeff McFarlin, Deceased, vs. May Ellison; Lula Evans, Annice Purdue, Nora McFarlin, Bert Ellison, and Clyde Purdue.

PUBLICATION NOTICE
The requisite affidavit for publication having been filed, notice is hereby given to you, May Ellison, Annice Purdue, Bert Ellison and Clyde Purdue that a petition has been filed in the Probate Court of Saline County, Illinois, by Herman McFarlin, administrator of the estate of Jeff McFarlin, deceased, for an order to sell certain premises belonging to the Estate of said deceased or so much thereof as may be needed to pay the debts of said deceased, which premises are described as follows, to-wit:

Tract 1:
SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of the NE $\frac{1}{4}$ of Sec. 26, Twp. 10S Range 6 East Saline County, containing 40 acres more or less.

Tract 2:
The NW $\frac{1}{4}$ of the SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 26, Twp. 10 South Range 6 East of the Third P. M. except a part thereof in the SE corner of said tract containing 7 acres more or less, described as follows: Beginning at the SE corner of said tract and running West on the land line 37 rods thence north 30 rods thence East 37 rods to the land line thence South on the land line 30 rods to the place of beginning and except a second tract described as follows beginning in the NE corner of said quarter quarter section running West on the land line 17 rods thence South 50 rods thence East 17 rods thence North 50 rods to the place of beginning except a strip used as a road through said premises.

That summons was duly issued against you as provided by law, and such is still pending.

Now therefore, unless you, May Ellison, Annice Purdue, Bert Ellison, and Clyde Purdue, file your answer to the petition in said cause or otherwise make your appearance herein at the said Probate Court of Saline County, held in the Court House in the City of Harrisburg, Illinois, on or before September 17, 1936, default may be entered against you at any time after that day, and a decree entered in accordance with the prayer of said petition.

Illinois Counties Lead Nation's Corn, Soybean Production

WASHINGTON (U) — A 1954 census of agriculture has revealed two Illinois counties led corn and soybean production in the nation while the top oats harvest was in Minnesota.

McLean County, Ill., was the top county in corn acreage and bush- els harvested. It supplied 17,559, 360 bushels to markets, or 0.4 per cent of the national harvest of 2,612,910,791 bushels.

Champaign County, Ill., harvest- ed 4,409,248 bushels of soybeans to head production. The county's crop was 1.4 per cent of the total crop in the nation.

Stearns County, Minn., took

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — Chief Warrant Officer George H. Ruggles has squared himself with local authorities even though it appears he was unjustly accused. Ruggles, stationed with the U.S.

4th Infantry Division in Germany, was named in an alleged parking violation here Nov. 5, 1954. Recent- ly, approximately one and a half years later, local police received from him 150 lire, 25 piastres, 200 francs and 10,000 drachma to pay any fines involved. The warrant officer apologized for the foreign currency but said regulations prevented his sending U. S. money.

"I have one complaint, how- ever," he added. "It's highly improb- able that I committed the offense alleged. I was in the European theater of operations at the time stated."

ASSESSMENT LIST

Herewith is a list of personal property assessments as made by the township assessor of Independent township and returned to MAYNARD CANNON, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments of Saline County, Illinois.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Saline County Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under Provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed values and the estimated full, fair cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extension for 1956 taxes, payable in 1957, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed values as made by the local assessment officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayers of the County of assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors.

Catholic Bishop Arrives in Hong Kong from China

HONG KONG — Catholic Bishop Ambrose Pinger, a prisoner in Communist China for the last five years, arrived here from behind the Bamboo Curtain today.

He said most of the 10 Americans still held in Red China are receiving better treatment.

Although suffering from high blood pressure, Bishop Pinger, of Lindsay, Neb., appeared well and was in good spirits when he stepped from the British ship Shillong, which brought him here from Shanghai. He arrived in Hong Kong just in time to celebrate his 59th birthday.

"Church conditions in Shanghai have not improved," the bishop told newsmen who greeted him. "There is no reason for optimism and no freedom of religion there. It is still impossible for Catholics to have contacts with the Holy Father."

The Franciscan bishop was arrested in Tsingtao on Aug. 3, 1951. He was accused only of being connected with the Legion of Mary.

Two Marines Drown in California

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Two Marines drowned Wednesday when a pontoon bridge section tipped over, spilling them and nine other Marines into deep water.

First Division Marine Corps spokesman said the Marines involved were members of the 7th Engineer Battalion which was demonstrating pontoon bridge construction to members of a reserve unit on Lake O'Neill.

The victims were identified as Pfc. Willie Jordan, Jr., 21, Detroit, and Pfc. Charles H. Ingram, 21, Liberty, Ind. The nine other Marines were either pulled from the lake or managed to swim ashore.

Two permits for oil drilling tests in Saline county have been issued up to Aug. 15 by the State Department of Mines and Minerals. They are as follows:

To Glen D. Sharp, Evansville, Ind., for the C. Castleton No. 1, Sec NE NW, Section 16 8s 5e, in Galatia township.

To Omar W. Minton Jr., West Frankfort, for the Harris-Murphy No. 1, NEc SW NW, Section 4 8s 5e, in Galatia township.

Herter Definitely No Candidate

BOSTON — Gov. Christian A. Herter said today he will ask that his name be withdrawn if it is placed in nomination for vice president at the Republican National Convention.

Herter, who had been boosted by Harold Stassen as President Eisenhower's running mate, said "The continued use of my name as a candidate for vice president is entirely unacceptable."

"As I have already stated, I am happy to place in nomination the name of Richard Nixon for that office," Herter said in a statement. "The vice president has made a notable contribution to the service of the American people and we should be glad that he is willing to serve for another term."

"I have already requested that no one place my name before the convention as a nominee for vice president."

"I wish to make it very clear that if this should be done against my specific request," Herter said, "I shall ask Joe Martin (Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., permanent chairman of the convention) to have my name withdrawn."

He said he was writing Martin "expressing my wishes in the matter."

Democrats Vote

Compromise Plank

Mr. Truman had caused him "more disappointment than anger; more distress than indignation."

Aides said that Stevenson was pleased with the belief that he had sewed up the nomination on his own, with no strings attached, no commitment to any bloc or group of leaders, and, this time, no obligations to Harry S. Truman.

Hence, he was reported to feel that he could choose a running mate to fit his own ideas about what is best for the party.

Stevenson in Background

Stevenson played no public role in the civil rights contest at the convention hall Wednesday night, although he had supporters on both sides of the issue. Aides believed he was asleep when the platform was adopted.

The Platform Committee unveiled its civil rights plank Wednesday and immediately heard growls from the South. These were soon drowned by still louder protests from Northern liberals like Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York and Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers.

When the convention assembled Wednesday night, E. Robert Short of Minnesota had collected the signatures of 14 of the 108 Platform Committee members for submission of a minority report.

proposing a stronger civil rights stand. That was enough to force a floor fight on the issue.

Remembering the Southern walkout which followed the 1948 convention floor fight over civil rights, Rayburn and key members of the Platform Committee huddled behind the speaker's rostrum.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr's speech was rescheduled ahead instead of after the Platform Committee report and there was more stalling while the band played.

But the backstage negotiations soon collapsed. Southern spokesmen departed with the announcement that they were going no farther than the committee version.

After the platform was read, Short arose and presented his minority report. He was greeted by cheers and boos. Lehman, Williams and others urged the minority report while McCormack and Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming fought for the committee version.

Eisenhower Confers with Top Advisers

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, preparing for the Republican convention next week, reviewed the Suez Canal crisis and other national security problems today with top-level defense and diplomatic advisers.

Mr. Eisenhower met to discuss international problems with his National Security Council. The regular weekly meeting of the security body was the only presidential appointment today.

Although no announcement on the results of the security meeting is expected, the White House said "it would be connected partly" with a preliminary conference late Wednesday "on security matters." Diplomatic, defense, treasury and foreign aid advisers attended Wednesday's meeting with the President.

Mr. Eisenhower apparently kept his schedule fairly free today for some relaxation and to get ready for next week's GOP convention in San Francisco. Some of the President's time during the day and evening undoubtedly will be devoted to keeping up on Democratic goings-on in Chicago.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, asked whether the president was keeping posted on the Chicago Democratic convention events, replied: "He knows." But he would not say whether Mr. Eisenhower, a television watcher, was getting his information via television.

Miss Rodeo of Iowa Falls Off Her Horse

SIDNEY, Iowa — Officials at the Sidney rodeo were in an awkward spot Wednesday.

Kay Stooker, 18, fell off her horse while making her grand entrance into the grounds. While she recovered both her horse and her poise, the red-faced officials prepared to present her with the title "Miss Rodeo of Iowa."

Bold Rodney Takes Top Honors at State Fair Races

SPRINGFIELD — Bold Rodney, driven by Bob Parkinson of Springfield took the honors at the top of the card Wednesday at the Illinois State Fair.

The local entry beat a field of 12, including a number of Hambletonian rivals to win the Review Futurity for 3-year-old trotters. The race carried a purse of 15,889.

Harness Racing Day at the fair presented a nine-race card, which also included the Review Futurity 3-year-old pace, the Castleton Farms Breeders Stakes for 2-year-old fillies and five single heat events for Illinois-owned horses.

Bold Rodney easily won the first heat in 2:01, broke stride and finished 12th in the second, took the third in 2:02 4-5.

Adioscot, owned by Walter Candler, Decatur Ga., captured the $13,411 Review Futurity 3-year-old pace, also in three heats. The Georgia horse was fourth behind Col Camp's Adioscot in the first, but took the second in 2:00 2-5 and the third in 2:12.

Good Counsel, driven by Frank Ervin, took the Castleton Farms Filly Stakes, 2-year-old pace, for $6,995. Starita, with Flick Nipe at the reins, carried away the $7,337 for the trot.

Hugh Grant's Dick Adios won the 24 class pace in 2:00 4-5 for $3,000; Colbrish won the 17 class trot for Olen Humphries in 2:02 4-5 also for $3,000; Gold Worthing won the 17 class pace in 2:00 4-5 for Curly Smart, $3,000; Precious Lady, owned by Carl Fisher, Avon, won the 20 class trot for $1,260.

Rain Dampens State Fair

SPRINGFIELD (CP)—Rain today put a damper on the Illinois State Fair and forced postponement of the harness racing program for the second time this week.

Showers started falling early this morning and cut sharply into attendance at the fair.

The racing program, with entries headed by 1955 Hambletonian winner and horse of the year, Scott Frost, will be run Friday weather permitting.

On Monday, rain and a muddy track forced postponement of the rich Illinois Colt Stakes, which were run Tuesday.

Livestock judges, meanwhile, handed out scores of blue ribbons as the "world's largest agricultural exposition" entered its seventh day.

Chicago Polio Begins to Subside

CHICAGO — The record polio outbreak in the nation's second largest city has reached its peak and is beginning to subside, Board of Health President Dr. Herman Bundesen said today.

Bunden announced victory in health authorities' long battle to halt the upsurge of the crippling disease as the case load since Jan. 1 climbed to 765 with the report of 19 new cases in the 24-hour period ended last midnight.

Teachers Need Greater Unity, NEA Consultant Says

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A consultant for the National Education Assn. says school teachers need a greater sense of unity and more professional pride.

Mary Titus, Washington, D.C., consultant of the NEA, spoke at the final session Wednesday of the annual Illinois Education Assn. leaders conference at Southern Illinois University.

"Going to school is the largest single organized activity universally engaged in by the American people," she said.

S. M. Bishop, of the office of the Illinois superintendent of public instruction, told delegates that a 50-million-dollar increase in educational appropriations is needed for the next biennium.

Former Screen Lover, Now 73, Honeymoons With 53-Year-Old Bride

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Francis X. Bushman, 73-year-old former matinee idol, and his 53-year-old bride honeymooned here today.

The first "great lover" of the silent screen was married for the fourth time Wednesday in a ceremony taking less than two minutes by District Judge Frank McNamee. It was Mrs. Richardson's third marriage.

U. S. Proposes 4-Point Plan for Suez Settlement

Would Free Canal From Domination By Any One Power

LONDON — The United States today proposed a four-point plan for internationalization of the Suez Canal.

The plan, said to represent the "coordinated views" of the United States, Britain and France, would free the canal from domination by any one power or group of powers. U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles laid the plan before the 22-nation Suez conference in the first major speech of the meeting.

The four points were: 1. The canal should be operated in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention under an international board to be established by treaty and associated with the United Nations. Egypt would be represented on the board, but there would be no dominating by any power or group of powers and no prejudice to any power.

2. Egypt's right to a fair return would be recognized. 3. There would be fair compensation to the canal's former stockholders. 4. Any difference would be submitted to an arbitration commission.

Dulles was the first speaker at the conference's afternoon session of the first day.

Earlier, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden had warned the morning session that the Suez crisis is the gravest since World War II. Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov challenged the competence of the conference to settle the dispute but said Russia would not sabotage the meeting.

Dulles, in his hour-long speech, warned that Egypt's legitimate rights must be recognized. But he said the canal's operation must be divorced from national politics.

Sweden and Portugal at once announced their support for the Dulles plan.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday. Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: Mike Shayne is investigating a case which involves the disappearance of a body from the Hibiscus Hotel. The woman who found the body told Mike she was pursued by a scar-faced man she believed was the murderer. This man later told Shayne he was the woman's brother. Mike has sent the young girl, identified as Nellie Paulson, to the apartment of Lucy Hamilton, his secretary.

XVIII

SHAYNE ran knobby fingers through his coarse hair and demanded, "Why do these screwy things have to happen to me? Why can't I for just once in my life get a nice, high-priced, clean-cut sort of case like I used to handle back in the agency?"

"Because," Rourke told him cheerily, "you've got all the taxi drivers in town capping for you and steering clients your way. And you'd turn it down cold if you did get one," he continued happily. "Look at tonight for instance. You have this babe proposition you on a nice high-priced, clean-cut sort of falling case, and what do you do? Turn her down cold, of course? Why? Because you've got a great big black Irish hunch that something more interesting is waiting for you upstairs. So-o-o-o. Now you're in the middle of it, and here you are complaining."

There was a knock on the door and a uniformed man entered with a sheet of paper. He laid it on the desk in front of Gentry, saying, "The information you wanted from Jacksonville, sir."

Gentry laid his cigar aside and picked it up. He glanced through it and told Shayne placidly, "Tim was correct as usual. Bert and Nellie Paulson. Thirty-one and 22 respectively." He glanced on across the typed lines, muttering, "Blonde. Five-foot-four. Hundred eighteen. Blond hair. Five-ten. Hundred-fifty."

He paused a moment, frowned, and then put the sheet down. "Nothing here about a scar on his face, Mike. It's a pretty complete description otherwise."

Shayne's jaw was set and the trenches showed deeply in his cheeks. "Did I hear you read that right? Height five-ten and weight 150?"

Gentry referred to the sheet again. He nodded. "That's right. And no scar."

"So he was lying," Shayne said thickly. "He's not Bert Paulson at all."

"Guess not," said Gentry cheerfully. "Here's something else. It says they have evidence this isn't the first of these stunts the Paulson brother-and-sister team have pulled. Two others in the past three months that didn't get reported until this was in the papers. Didn't your Bert Paulson tell you he'd been living in Detroit and just came down in answer to a wire from his sister?"

Shayne nodded grimly. "That's what he told me."

"And now he's gone out with a gun looking for her, said Gentry sharply. "Could be he's one of her victims that finally decided to get sore."

The telephone on Chief Gentry's desk rang just then. He answered it, said, "Hi, honey," after a moment, and extended it to Shayne. "Your ever-loving and long-suffering secretary on the wire, Mr. Shayne."

He took it and Lucy said, "She's here, Mike. You told me to call you."

"Swell." He made his voice light and bantering. "You just keep it right there until I get around. Before midnight as I promised."

He hung up and grinned. "Just reminding me she's still got that drink of cognac poured out and waiting for me."

10:46 P. M.

LUCY HAMILTON sat stiffly erect in a straight chair near the telephone in her living room, smoking a cigaret and frowning a little, half-closing her eyes against the blue smoke that curled lazily up from the tip of the white cylinder in her left hand.

Each time she opened her eyes, her gaze went across the room to the big chair beside the sofa and the low table beside it with the glasses and cognac bottle she had set out for her red-headed employer more than an hour previously.

The untouched glasses mocked at her. Her brown eyes smarted each time she looked at them, and she blinked them shut to keep back the tears.

It was silly of her to feel this way, of course. This was no different from many other times. Tonight was just an integral part of the pattern she had cut out for her future when she went to work as Michael Shayne's secretary. For years, she had accepted the pattern. She accepted it now.

SOMEHOW, tonight had been different. Michael had seemed subtly different as they drove home together after a perfect shore dinner. With her face pressed against his shoulder in the car she had allowed herself to drift away once again on the wings of a recurring dream. It wasn't often she allowed herself to do that. Not these days. Not after these years of being with Michael. Of working so closely with him.

Always, there would be a telephone to take him from her side. Her right hand clenched into a tight fist. That was the pattern. His work came first. Any blonde who had got herself in trouble and wanted him to get her out of it would always come first with Michael.

Higher Regard Asked for Politician

BERKELEY, Calif. — (U) — A University of California political scientist has called for recognition of the American politician as performing in a "necessary and honorable calling."
"It's high time politics ceased being a dirty word and politician a term of reproach," said Peter H. Odegard, chairman of the university's political science department.
He said a nation cannot function without political leadership and that American politicians "compare favorably in education, training, and experience with their opposite numbers in business and the professions."
"The wonder," he said, "is that this is true in a culture where the political leader is held in low esteem."

Packard Begins Closing Up Shop

DETROIT (U) — Packard, a proud automotive name in this city for 56 years, was closing shop today.
Top executives, most of them out of jobs, speculated that the Packard name may appear on the high-priced Studebaker line.
The concrete effects of the absorption of Studebaker - Packard Corp. by Curtiss-Wright Corp. two weeks ago came thudding home here this week.
The East Grand Boulevard assembly plant was being dismantled and put up for sale as soon as possible. The Connor body plant has been sold to Chrysler. Defense works at these Detroit plants are being shifted to the Utica, Mich., engine plant, to become the hub of the local defense works of the new Utica-Bend subsidiary of Curtiss-Wright.
Only 1,500 of what was a 10,500-man hourly work force a few months ago remains on the job. These are working on defense production.
All auto production is being shifted to the Studebaker works at South Bend, but the 1957 models of the firm were mysteries.

Why "Good-Time Charlie" Suffers Uneasy Bladder

Such a common thing as urinating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if restless nights, with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.
Doan's Pills have three outstanding advantages—act in three ways for your speedy return to comfort. 1—They have an easing soothing effect on bladder irritations. 2—A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 3—A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Dirksen Promises Stronger Civil Rights Plank

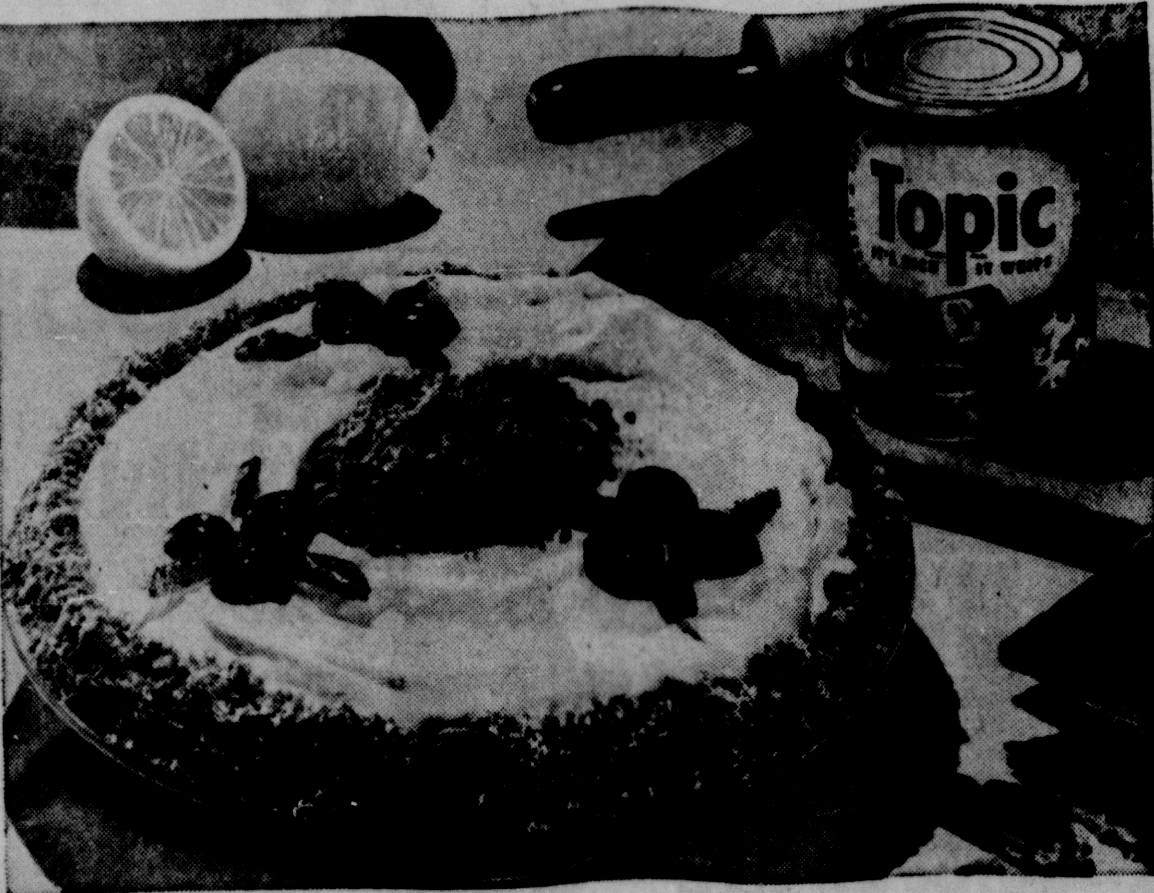

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), chairman of the subcommittee drawing up the Republican Party's civil rights plank, today promised the platform would contain "no such serpentine weasels as is in the Democratic plank."
Dirksen described the Democratic civil rights plank as "something that goes all the way around Robin Hood's barn four times and adds up to nothing."
Dirksen refused to come flat out and say that the GOP plank would include a straightforward endorsement of the Supreme Court decision on desegregation. But he hinted strongly that he favors such a declaration.

"The Supreme Court is the law of the land," he said. "And I believe in enforcement of the law."

New "Lemon Whirl" Pie—made with fresh-tasting TOPIC and CINNAMON CRISP grahams!

COOL 'N' QUICK, our new Lemon Whirl Pie will be your favorite summertime dessert! So "lemony"-flavored, so creamy-whipped, so crunchy-crust! The secret of the "no-bake" crust is Cinnamon Crisp grahams. You'll love the crispy texture and cinnamon flavor! The secret of the "no-cook" filling is fresh-tasting Topic. It whips quickly and easily — blends smoothly with the fruit gelatin to bring out the full lemon tang—and costs only 1/6 as much as expensive whipping cream!

Has our new Lemon Whirl Pie made your mouth water? Here's the recipe—now go to it!

LEMON WHIRL PIE

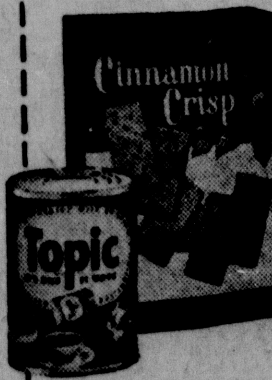

(Makes single crust 9" pie)

1 3-oz. package lemon gelatin 1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup hot water 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup sugar 9-inch Cinnamon Crisp graham crust
1 cup undiluted Topic

Mix gelatin, hot water and sugar together; stir until dissolved. Cool until gelatin is thickened and syrupy (about 25-30 minutes). Chill Topic in refrigerator tray until crystals form around edges of tray (15-20 minutes). Whip stiff (about 1 minute); add lemon juice. Continue whipping until very stiff. Mix whipped Topic, gelatin and lemon rind together. Pour into crumb crust. Chill about 1 hour or until firm. Top with remaining crumbs.

•FOR CINNAMON CRISP GRAHAM CRUST: Mix 1 1/2 cups cracker crumbs (Cinnamon Crisp or regular grahams), 1/4 cup melted butter and 2 tablespoons sugar together. Line sides and bottom of 9-inch pie plate, saving 1/4 cup crumbs for pie topping.

ASSESSMENT LIST

Herewith is a list of personal property assessments as made by the township assessor of Cottage township and returned to MAYNARD CANNON, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments of Saline County, Illinois.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Saline County Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under Provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full, fair, cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair, cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extension for the 1956 taxes, payable in 1957, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed values as made by the local assessment officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayers of the County of assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors.

How Columbia Agricultural Limestone Helps Keep Your Farm Productive

When you apply COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE to your farm you accomplish numerous important things at one and the same time.

1. You replace the calcium and magnesium (LIME) which has been lost through cropping.
2. The acid condition of your soil, which has developed as the result of the loss of LIME, is corrected—that is, the soil is "SWEETENED."
3. The activity of favorable bacteria is stimulated; the decay of organic matter, such as manure straw, roots and stubble, is hastened; and the nitrogen forming processes are promoted.
4. Other plant foods, especially phosphorus, are kept in more available form.
5. Soil structure is improved; heavy clays and silts are made looser and easier to till.

LIME a part of your farm each year. COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE will return at least $3.00 for each $1.00 invested in your liming program.

A MODERN SPRINKLING system is being installed at the Eldorado high school football field. Five ditches for the water lines have been dug—the main water line runs east and west across the field and the sprinkler lines, each equipped for nine whirling shower heads, run north and south from goal line to goal line.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

A modern sprinkling system is being installed at the Eldorado high school football field and when completed will assure players and fans that the gridiron will never again take on a "dust bowl" appearance.

Times in the past has found the field almost too dusty for either the players or fans when a long dry season, combined with lots of play, wore the grass away and turned a once grassy field into a dusty one.

Now the grass will continue to grow and there will be no dust.

The system being installed is said to be the finest available and will allow complete sprinkling of the field.

Four water lines approximately 500 feet long are being laid north and south, from goal line to goal line. Water will be fed into these lines from a large main laid east and west and connecting into a city water main close by the school property.

Each of the north-south water lines will have connections for nine whirling shower heads. The heads will sprinkle over a 40 foot radius.

The connections for the sprinklers will be flush with the ground and covered with a rubber cap when not in use. Only one line of sprinklers will be used at a time.

The system is being installed by the Sutton Plumbing Shop, Eldorado.

It looks like a fine system—the answer to a long standing dust problem.

There is only one worry at the present time. Will the work be finished and the field returned to playing condition by the time of the opening of football practice Monday, Aug. 27.

With other construction work in progress at the ETHS the field formerly used for practice sessions is unavailable. The "pea patch" ran north of the gymnasium and was used occasionally by the varsity and also by the underclassmen. Now a part of that field is the location of the new industrial arts, agriculture and music departments and the remainder of the field houses equipment or is piled with dirt from excavations.

In a recent radio appearance, says The Sporting News, Dusty Rhodes of the Giants was asked what he thought Ty Cobb would hit against present-day pitching. Rhodes said, "Oh, about 200."

When he was reminded that Cobb retired with a lifetime average of .367, Rhodes said, "I know, but by now he must be 65 or 70 years old."

For the Cubs' attack Betz had three singles, Dorris and Lambert had a triple apiece, Lucas doubled and Vinson and Cannon picked up a safety each. Betz was the losing pitcher.

Raleigh Beats Cubs, 29-12, in Kiwanis Game

By David Nelson

Raleigh murdered the Cubs, 29-12, in the only Kiwanis game played Wednesday.

Raleigh had the same number of hits as the losing Cubs, 8, but took advantage of 15 errors and 12 bases on balls to win. S. Taylor and J. Woolard combined on the mound for the winners, giving up eight hits while walking nine batters. G. Woolard led Raleigh at the plate with a homer and two singles. D. Cochran had a homer and a single. K. Ramsey singled twice and J. Woolard hit safely once.

Convention Delegates See Reds Win Two from Cubs; Spahn Defeats Cards, 4-1

By United Press

Cincinnati's pennant platform, founded on the long ball and only a short rest for all pitchers, received a rousing vote today from 2,334 Democratic convention delegates who went out to the old ball game and saw the Redlegs bounce back to within 2-1-2 games of the National League lead.

The delegates were part of a crowd of 15,874 fans who flocked out to Wrigley Field in Chicago Wednesday and watched the Redlegs sweep a doubleheader from the Cubs, 4-3, in a 15-inning opener and 7-3, in the nightcap which was limited to six innings because of darkness.

Ed Bailey, Wally Post and Smokey Burgess each homered during the twin-bill, with Post's grand slam circuit proving the clincher in the nightcap.

Johnny Klippstein and Art Fowler, the two winning pitchers, both worked with only one day's rest.

Spahn Defeats Cards
Southpaw Warren Spahn of the league-leading Milwaukee Braves turned in a five-hit effort to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-1, for his 13th win of the season. Ray Katt put the Cards ahead with a third inning homer with the bases empty. But the Braves scored two runs in the fourth. Johnny Logan drove in another in the fifth and Danny O'Connell's single produced the final Milwaukee run in the seventh.

Johnny Antonelli turned in his best job of the year in hurling the New York Giants to a 1-0 decision over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Antonelli gave up only two hits and received all the margin he needed when Willie Mays blasted his 21st homer off Don Newcombe in the fourth inning.

Ronnie Kline's five-hit pitching, coupled with a four-run rally in the eighth inning, carried Pittsburgh to a 5-1 victory over Philadelphia. Jack Meyer of the Phils nursed a 1-0 lead until the eighth when the Pirates pushed across their four runs.

The runaway Yankees stretched their American League lead to 10 1/2 games with a 6-4 conquest over the Red Sox.

Yanks Break Tie
In beating Boston ace Tom Brewer for the sixth straight time in his career, the Yanks broke a 3-3 tie with a three-run rally in the seventh inning. Hank Bauer singled home the tie-breaking run and Billy Martin followed with a two-run double.

Frank Lary held the Cleveland Indians to six scattered hits in defeating veteran Bob Lemon and leading the Detroit Tigers to a 1-0 win. The only run came in the eighth when Bill Tuttle singled and rode home on Harvey Kuenn's double.

Dick Donovan, a disappointment most of the season for the White Sox, limited the Athletics to two hits in a 10-0 romp. The White Sox shelled three Kansas City pitchers for 15 hits, including homers by Minnie Minoso, Sherm Lollar and Sam Esposito.

Bill Gardner's single scored Bob Nieman from second base in the 12th inning to give the Baltimore Orioles a 3-2 decision over the Washington Senators. Reliever Bill Wright, who rescued starter Mike Fornieles, registered his seventh victory.
